ALICE S. POLLARD, Librarian

REPORT OF LIBRARIAN, FREE PUBLIC LIBRARY, CENTRE CONWAY

The work and patronage at this Library continues about the same as for preceding years.

The room occupied in the town office building is altogether too small for the work of the Library. The Library is supplied with the same magazines as for the past several years, and each week a goodly number of people come to the Library to look over and read the various magazines, and are greatly handicapped in their research work. We wish those in authority would give this matter some thought, and see if the congestion can not be relieved.

Mrs. Morrill and Mrs. Comstock continue in keeping the Outlook and St. Nicholas regularly upon the reading table. Mrs. A. W. Greely has also contributed magazines. The average patronage of the Library is from sixty to seventy-five books per week. There have been seventy-eight new books, including eight gifts, placed upon the shelves during the year.

Total books loaned, 3,125; fiction, 1,907; juvenile, 989; miscellaneous, 229.

We wish to thank any and all for the aid given and interest shown in the work and prosperity of the library at this little village.

Respectfully submitted,

ABBIE M. D. BLOUIN, Librarian

Report of School Board

SCHOOL DISTRICT OFFICERS

Arthur H. Furber, chairman, term expires 1916; Leander C. Prescott, term expires 1917; Everett E. Thoits, secretary, term expires 1918; William R. Carter, treasurer, Alonzo J. Knowlton, superintendent, financial sceretary.

To the citizens of Conway:

We respectfully submit our report for the year ending Feb. 15, 1916. For a detailed report of the work of the schools we refer to the report of the superintendent and principals of the three village schools and of the special teacher of music and drawing.

The expense of running the schools has increased this year and if they are to be maintained at the present standard it will be necessary to increase the amount of general school money. It will also be necessary to provide for the amount spent at Conway and North Conway by the special committee appointed at the last annual meeting. The School Board wish to thank this Committee for their work.

Last fall it was necessary to dig a new well at Center Conway which will explain why the repair money was overdrawn. For next year the only extra repairs that seem needed is the painting of the buildings at Conway, North Conway and Kearsarge.

A new transportation team has been added to bring the children from South Conway to the school at Center Conway.

A Parent-Teachers-Association has been organized at North Conway. This is a step in the right direction and we hope its usefulness will increase in the future, and that similar organizations will be formed in other parts of the town,

The School Board has managed the affairs of the District in accordance with their best judgement, always keeping in mind the interests of the whole district.

The machinery of the schools is now in excellent running order under an able superintendent and efficient teachers. What is needed now is greater interest and appreciation on the part of the parents, and more earnest work and higher ambitions on the part of the pupils.

In accordance with chapter 52, session laws of 1909, the School Board recommend to the Selectmen that the following sums for the following purposes are necessary for the ensuing year: First, High school tuition, nothing; second, text books and supplies, $900.00.

Respectfully submitted,

ARTHUR H. FURBER,
LEANDER C. PRESCOTT,
EVERETT E. THOITS,

School Board of Conway.

Report of the Superintendent of Schools

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen:—

I have the honor and pleasure to submit for your consideration my fourth annual report of the schools of Conway, it being the seventh in the series of such reports.

The regular work of the curriculum has been carried along in much the usual way with a more or less changing emphasis in order to strengthen the work in different subjects when there appeared to be a falling off in efficiency.

Standard tests have been given in all the schools above the third grade in spelling, English and writing. The Courtis Standard Practice Tests have been introduced into the schools to measure efficiency and progress in arithmetic. Tests in paragraph reading are to be given as soon as material can be gotten ready. These tests will be given from time to time to measure progress and the efficiency of the schools. By these tests, we shall be able not only to measure the school as a whole but the quality of the teaching, and thereby will know whether or not we are getting satisfactory dividends on our investments. We are not able to report results at present because all papers have not been graded and but one test in each subject has been given.

Some departmental work is being done at Center Conway in music, history and penmanship. This is mentioned in Mr. Marshall's report which is appended.

All school buildings have been cleaned during the summer and the floors of the larger buildings have been oiled.

A school was opened at South Conway on October 18, 1915, for the three Dewitt children with Mrs. F. Ida Rounds as teacher. Mrs. Rounds had been teaching the children at times previous to this date. This seemed to be the only satisfactory arrangement that could be made for these children in this out of the way place.

At Center Conway, a new piano has been purchased through the efforts of the pupils, teachers and citizens. This is a great help to the school. I shall be glad to see pianos in the school buildings at Conway and North Conway.

A victrola and some records have been purchased with funds earned by a school play given by the pupils of the North Conway high school. They also have a small fund started toward a piano.

The North Conway grammar school, consisting of grades seven and eight, gave an entertainment and with the funds purchased curtains for their class room and with the balance are to get some play-ground apparatus.

The Conway high school is to give a play to secure funds for a piano. These are movements in the right direction and may the good work continue till we have a good supply of apparatus for the school play-grounds. Free play is the one school exercise in which the whole child takes part.

TRUANT OFFICER

The truant officers appointed for year 1915-1916 are Mr. L. P. Allard, Conway and Mr. C. E. McIntyre, North Conway. Both officers have had a small amount of work to do but no special report is made.

COURSE OF STUDY

The Aldine system of reading is used as a foundation for reading with only a medium emphasis on the phonetic side. The mechanics of reading is supposed to be completed at the close of the third grade. From the first grade, much supplementary reading that is appropriate to the age of the pupils is used. Much more is needed in some of the classes.

After the mechanics of reading has been mastered, silent reading with oral reproduction of the matter read forms a major part of the reading. The primary use of reading is to get information. Silent reading is much more rapid than oral and is the form that is generally used in life. Hence, the need of training in rapid silent means of getting thought from the printed page.

The oral reproduction of the thought, gleaned through silent reading, is a very important part in oral language work along with the drills in language forms. There is much written language but oral language is the more important and is given the greater amount of time and drill.

The work in spelling is not yet satisfactory. This is due, I believe, not alone to the fault of the teachers, but to the fact that we have been trying to teach the spelling of too many words. By so doing, the child really masters comparatively few words. We are using in some of the rooms the Ayre's list of one-thousand most commonly used words which are arranged by grades and form a basis for a standard test in spelling. In every school, there has been placed a copy of the Jones's speller which is the next best list of words to that of the Ayre's Standard Test list. The two work very well together.

The child may be said to have three vocabularies; viz., his reading vocabulary, speaking vocabulary, and his writing vocabulary. I am convinced that he needs to be able to spell only the words in the last named vocabulary. Upon this basis, we are teaching spelling. Teaching fewer words but teaching them better and giving many review lessons. Retention tests are given from time to time in spelling to see how well the child is able to recall and use the words previously studied. These sometimes are given in the form of dictation exercises and sometimes as isolated words. We do not make any pretense of teaching spelling during the first year as the alphabet is not taught till the latter part of the year.

HIGH SCHOOLS

Our high schools have been under the same efficient principals as last year; viz., Mr. Charles H. Walker, North Conway with Miss Madeline E. Clough as his assistant; Mr. Wm. H. Bailey at Conway with Miss Grace E. Currie as his assistant; and the first year high school at Center Conway is under the principalship of Stephen T. Marshall. Mr. Marshall is doing some excellent work in this school.

The curriculum of the high schools has been extended so that we now have three years of approved high school work. The science work of the third year is chemistry. To meet the requirements for this course, chemical laboratories have been made and equipped so that individual experiments are performed by the students and records made in their note books.

There is but one high school tuition pupil in town this year. He entered the beginning of the winter term from Eaton.

I find from data secured from the high school pupils that the amount of home study varies from 0 minutes to 180 minutes per day and that books read during the year, other than school books, varies from none to 200. This shows that some of the pupils are not making the best use of their time outside of school hours. Every high school pupil should do some outside studying and no person doing effective school work can read as many as 200 books in a year but every child should read some books. It is evident that some cooperative work is needed between parents and teachers.

In studying the high school attendance, I find that we have twenty-five pupils who are doing secondary school work in schools outside of the district. There were, last October, 66 pupils registered in our high schools making a total of 91 or 17.3 per cent. of our total registration attending high school. The ideal percentage is 33 1-3 per cent. or 175 pupils for the Conway district. This can never be reached in any community for it is found that only 88 per cent. of those who enter the first grade can possibly go through the eighth grade on account of death and other uncontrollable causes. Newton, Mass., has perhaps the best record for high school attendance, 19 per cent.

The greatest loss comes in our school between the eighth grade and the high school. There is a strong movement to reduce this mortality to the minimum by a reorganization of the elementary and high school curricula. By this means the elementary course would cover a period of six years and the high school the next six years, the first three years of the high school to be known as a "Junior High School." This is working very successfully in many places.

We wish to call attention to the percentage of attendance in our high schools as well as the number of tardy marks. The percentages for the high schools should be higher than they are and the tardy marks are far too many—so much so as to be criticised by the State Department. It is essential that parents, pupils and teachers co-operate more closely to see if a better showing cannot be made.

The reports of the principals are appended and made a part of this report.

MUSIC AND DRAWING

Miss Esther B. Cowden resigned at the close of the school year to be married. Miss Gladys A. Barker, a graduate of the Thomas Normal Training School, Detroit, was secured to fill the vacancy. Miss Barker is getting results that are satisfactory. Her aim is to lay a firm foundation before she tries to build the superstructure. This means hard work and much drill. Miss Barker's report is appended and made a part of this report.

TRANSPORTATION

At the present time we have eight transportation teams as follows: three at Conway, two at Center Conway, one at East Conway, and two at North Conway. They transport a total of fifty pupils. This number is not a constant quantity. All of these conveyances should have some suitable covering to protect the children on stormy days. The expense, besides a little labor, would be small.

REPAIRS AND REMODELLING

At East Conway, a new floor has been laid and a book case built. These are much appreciated by the teacher and pupils. At Redstone and the West Side schools, some minor repairs have been made.

The special committee appointed to provide for extra rooms at Conway and North Conway to relieve the congested conditions found in the lower grades did a good bit of very satisfactory work as follows: at Conway, they purchased the small building that was in front of the main building next the street and moved it back and to one side of the lot and finished it off into a primary room and a chemical laboratory. These are heated from the plant in the main building. At North Conway, by removing and straightening up stairs a good recitation room was secured for the high school, a chemical laboratory was finished off in the tower, two coat rooms, a small supply room and a flight of stairs was taken from the unfinished room and electric lights were put into the building. These have been a great aid to the teachers in the school work. By these changes, the congestion in the lower grades of Conway and North Conway has been relieved.

Steam heat has been put into all of the new rooms. Slate boards have been put into the new class rooms and some extra pieces put into four rooms in the Conway school building.

Because of sand troubles, the water supply at Center Conway has been changed from the original well near the building to an open well at the foot of the embankment. Since this change, there has been no trouble with the water supply.

JANITORS

At Conway, we have the same efficient janitor, Mr. L. P. Allard, as in former years. Mr. Allard always has a good looking building and clean class rooms. Soon after the close of the school last June, the janitor, Mr. George V. Eastman, at North Conway met with an accident while working in the basement of the school building and from its effects died a few weeks later. Mr. C. E. McIntyre was secured to take Mr. Eastman's place. Mr. McIntyre has been prompt, faithful and conscientious in his work. The building is always kept in good condition.

Mr. Dana Bemis, the janitor at Center Conway, is always on duty and has a pride in keeping the buildings and grounds in tidy condition.

We have three efficient janitors in our village schools. The work of the janitors at Conway and North Conway has been increased quite a good deal since the addition of the extra rooms.

BOOKS AND SUPPLIES

Supplies have been furnished as required by law consisting of books, paper, pencils, rulers, drawing materials, etc. Chemical apparatus and supplies have been purchased for the third year class in high school. These have been difficult to get and much more expensive than formerly owing to the European war. Some of the material wanted could not be purchased. All of the supplies, we have endeavored to have used economically.

The changes in books have been as follows: a partial change in arithmetics and grammars for the grades; in the high school at North Conway, change in geometries; at Conway, change in beginners' Latin, General History and English History. Books purchased for the third year classes were: European History, English books, Latin, German and Chemistry. In addition to these some reference books have been purchased, supplementary reading for the grades and two sets of Ancient History maps for the high schools to meet the State requirements for approved high schools.

We feel that the recommendation made in our 1913 report is worthy of further consideration; viz., that a new book be given to a pupil on entering the sixth grade in each of the following subjects, viz., geography, arithmetic and grammar and that he shall use the same books for as long a time as he shall remain in the elementary schools.

When he shall have completed the course satisfactorily, these same books are to become the property of the child by gift of the District and so stamped. If the child destroys or loses any of these books before he has completed the elementary course he shall replace them at his expense. This, we believe, will not materially increase the cost of books and will keep them in much better condition and will prevent, to some extent, the possibility of spreading contagious diseases through the use of common material, and further, they will have some books for reference and study after they have left school.

Some pupils are not sufficiently careful of books loaned them by the District. There should be some Board regulations as to care of books and supplies loaned.

All books, in the District, have been numbered consecutively so that a complete record may be kept.

VACCINATION

The STATE BOARD OF HEALTH thru the local Board of Health is to enforce the compulsory vaccination law. This law requires that all children shall be vaccinated before they shall be allowed to attend any private or public school. The time for the full enforcement has been extended from January 1, 1916 to not later than the opening of the fall term of school, 1916. I hope that every parent will look after this matter before that date so that there shall be no delay on the part of any child in not being prepared to attend on the first day. A certificate of vaccination, signed by a physician, will be required of every child on entering school in the fall.

SUPERINTENDENT'S TIME

I have held two general teachers' meetings besides several in the buildings where there are a number of teachers. In other cases, I have given assistance, suggestions and directions to the teachers at the time of my visits or in writing as the situation required. I have made an aggregate of 712 visits to the various school rooms in town. During the year, I have attended three teachers' institutes, taking part in one, two meetings of the Educational Council, State Teachers' Association, two meetings of superintendents, and took three courses in education at Dartmouth College Summer School. My professional reading and study have been along lines of recent investigation and experiments for school betterment. The best results of this study, I have endeavored to make use of in our school system as far as is possible.

My time in the supervisory district, has been divided as last year; viz., one-eighth each to Madison, Bartlett Special and Bartlett Town and five-eighths to Conway.

ATTENDANCE

The attendance for the Conway district corrected to October 1, 1915, shows the following: whole number registered 500, per cent. of enrollment of what it should be—100, per cent. of retardation, that is pupils who are not able to do work in the grade where they should be according to their chronological age,—19 (average for the U. S. 25 per cent.), per cent. of retention 96.57, per cent. of failures 8.29 (average for the U. S. is from 20 per cent. to as low as 4 per cent. in cities.)

The per cent. of attendance in the elementary schools for the past year is 92.15. The number of pupils tardy 1,324, which is far too many. We appeal to you parents that we may have your cooperation in order that a better showing may be made in the future.

REPORT OF SUPERVISOR OF MUSIC AND DRAWING

MR. A. J. KNOWLTON,

Superintendent of Schools.

My Dear Sir:—

The work in music consists of theory, which is the science or underlying principles, sight reading, musical appreciation and history.

Every normal school child can sing and enjoys singing. So we aim to give each child sufficient individual work in the lower grades to enable him to think and sing independently during all his school years and also after he is out of school.

In the primary grades we aim to be especially particular of the quality of tone the child uses, and we develop this thru the use of rote songs, which are used nearly altogether in the primary grades. Also thru the use of tone drills, and eye and oral ear training. Rhythm work is to be developed quite extensively in the grades.

In the intermediate and grammar grades the work of the primary grades is to be developed fully and all the principles of music fully explained so as to prepare the child for the work of the high school.

By the time a child has reached the High School the work should be so that most of the time can be spent in chorus work, for all the principles of music should be thoroughly understood by this time.

We are very fortunate to have a new piano in the Conway Center school, which was procured through the efforts of the students and teachers. I am hoping that it will not be long before we have a piano in both of the Conway high schools. Having a piano would make the music work a great deal more interesting for the students.

The work in drawing consists of paper cutting and folding, illustrative work, nature work, conventional designing, applied design, perspective, pencil sketching, and object drawing. It also consists of teaching the child how to handle the different mediums used in drawing work. Some of the mediums used are: Crayon, water colors and pencil.

We aim to apply the drawing work so that it will correlate with the season of year. Through the spring and fall, all the grades work with specimens from nature. During the winter months, through the use of still life models, and the study of perspective, the eye is trained to see form quickly.

Drawing is of great value to each child, it develops his imagination, teaches him how to use his hands and gives him the desire to want to do things. It also teaches him to be able to express his thoughts and to understand the expression of thought of others. Drawing developes a love for the beautiful, taste in regard to the harmony of colors both in the home and personal uses.

Parents and friends are cordially invited to attend any of the music and drawing classes that may be of interest to them.

Thanking the superintendent and teachers for their help and cooperation.

Very respectfully,

GLADYS A. BARKER.

REPORT OF PRINCIPAL OF CONWAY CENTER HIGH AND GRAMMAR SCHOOL

MR. A. J. KNOWLTON,

Superintendent of Schools.

My Dear Sir:—

I have the pleasure of submitting to you my first report as principal of the school at Center Conway for the fall term, 1915, and for the month of January 1916.

At the beginning of the fall term the enrollment of the school was 65. The present membership is 59. The membership and the per cent. of attendance in the rooms for the fall term are as follows:

	Per cent. attendance	Membership
Primary	97.27	23
Intermediate	96.63	26
Grammar and IX	97.05	16

Attendance is one of our greatest problems that we have to deal with and I have tried to inculcate at all times that attendance, punctual and continued, in any of life's phases of work is invaluable.

MANAGEMENT

I have tried to impress the pupils that a young man or young woman cannot become a good scholar, a good lawyer, a good physician, a good soldier or an efficient worker in any profession or trade until he or she has first become a gentleman or a lady. The discipline in the school has been good and when possible, punishment has been confined to the individual class room teacher. I have also tried to impress the pupils with the fact that the school is for them and that they must use the school property in as careful a manner as they would use property at home and in return that they must give commendable results. I have always tried to make the teachers feel that they are working with me and not under me and consequently their co-operation has been willing and effective at all times.

SPECIAL INSTRUCTION

Miss Pratt of the intermediate room has taught the eighth grade history in my room; and Miss Wickens of the primary room has taught the penmanship in all the rooms. This has given me the opportunity to go into their rooms; to drill in music in the intermediate room, and in spelling and language in the primary room.

RECOMMENDATIONS

During the fall there has been more or less auto travel on the main road and because of the danger of pupils being hurt on their way to and from school, I suggest that warning signs be placed several feet above and below the main entrance to the school grounds. I also suggest the installation of electric bells in the class rooms and basement, the same to be connected with the principal's desk. This will save the principal from leaving his room to strike the bell for recesses and dismissals and will save many minutes that are now lost during the week. This is a great time saving age and efficiency is the magic word of the 20th century.

During the year 1915 to the present time I have attended three teachers' institutes having taken part in one at Wolfeboro; one general teachers' meeting, and have also spent a day visiting the grades at Conway. I have also taken and read throughout the year three educational journals; the same covering primary, intermediate and higher grade work. I have also done more or less collateral reading in Administration and Psychology.

I wish to thank, at this time, the supervisor of music and drawing for the good results obtained. I wish to thank also our janitor, Mr. Bemis, and the teachers of the building for their conscientious work and cooperation. I wish to thank also the drivers of the school teams for their punctuality.

CONCLUSION

In conclusion permit me to say that it is a satisfaction to know and to feel that the pupils for the most part are ambitious, intelligent and of the right spirit, that the teachers are loyal and able, that the superintendent and other school authorities are most kindly in their criticism, and that the community has a high standard to which the citizen must aim. To work with all my energy and enthusiasm for such a school is indeed a pleasant duty. It has been a pleasure, indeed, to undertake the work here under your superintendency.

Respectfully submitted,

STEPHEN T. MARSHALL.

Conway Center, Feb. 1, 1916.

REPORT OF PRINCIPAL OF NORTH CONWAY HIGH SCHOOL

MR. A. J. KNOWLTON,

Superintendent of Schools.

Dear Sir:—

In accordance with your request, I offer my second annual report as principal of the North Conway High School for the past year and for the month of January 1916.

We believe there was steady improvement both in deportment and scholarship of all pupils from February last, until school closed last June. With two or three exceptions all students of the first half of the year remained for the entire year. In all activities, athletic or dramatic, which the pupils have attempted, they have won much credit for themselves. They have given two dramas, with the proceeds from which, they have purchased a victrola and seventeen splendid records for the school, besides having a little over forty dollars in the bank as a start toward a piano, for which, the school is sadly in need.

At the opening of the fall term, the enrollment of the school was thirty-one and within a month three more boys and one girl entered. Two boys have since left, leaving thirty-three. The membership by classes is:

	Girls	Boys	Total
First year	2	12	14
Second year	9	4	13
Third year	3	3	6
Total	14	19	33

The average daily attendance for the fall term was 32.47, the per cent. of attendance 93.79 and the number of cases of tardiness 94. Although the attendance is a little more than one per cent. better than it was last year, it is not nearly what it should be and the number of tardinesses is far too many. We wish to remind all parents again this year of the importance of their cooperation to the effect, that their children shall never be absent nor tardy unless it is absolutely necessary.

There has been much improvement in some of the recitations this year but the best possible mark has not yet been reached. There is a great lack of spirit in many classes, as if the work were mere drudgery. This is due to several causes, of which some are, lack of interest in gaining knowledge, lack of application to studies, especially outside of school and a feeling of irresponsibility on the part of many pupils. Too many outside interests influence the students for them to accomplish their best work. In order that the children may get the most benefit from the school we appeal to the parents to encourage them to place their school work first. If the lesson in application and concentration of thought is not learned while in school the pupil will be poorly equipped to meet the problems of life in general. It is impossible for the student to do his or her best without the cooperation of the parents at home. Frequently the work of the teacher is entirely undone after the pupil leaves the school room. This is why we need the fullest cooperation of the home in our efforts to mold the young lives placed in our care.

The teachers of the whole building would be pleased to receive more visitors than they have for the past year. It is a real pleasure to show parents and others the work we are trying to do, and we think, moreover, that it furnishes a stimulus to the pupil, whose parent is visiting and to the other students as well, with whom the visitor is acquainted.

We wish, at this time, to thank our janitor, Mr. McIntyre, our assistant, Miss Clough, the special teacher in drawing and music, Miss Barker, and all the teachers of the building for their loyalty and faithful cooperation; and the superintendent and Board of Education for their advice and support.

Respectfully submitted,

C. H. WALKER,
Principal.

Feb. 1, 1916.

REPORT OF THE PRINCIPAL OF THE CONWAY HIGH SCHOOL

MR. ALONZO J. KNOWLTON,
Superintendent of Schools.

Dear Sir:—

With two exceptions the teachers in the school are the same as last year. Miss Wilson, who has had experience as a teacher both in St. Mary's School, Concord, N. H., and in Groveton, N. H., takes the place of Miss Donovan in the second grade. Miss Currie, a recent graduate of Brown University, succeeds Miss Richards as assistant in the high school. We also are most fortunate in retaining as janitor, Mr. Allard. He not only looks after the building and grounds most carefully, but also, because of the respect which the boys have for him, manages them at the basement and noon hour.

The addition of a third year course in the high school has greatly increased the efficiency of the school. With one exception all of last year's sophomore class returned in the fall to continue their studies, and the larger enrollment over former years has made far more united school spirit and the possibility of more school activities. This third year class is working especially well and is showing a marked enthusiasm for the new studies offered. The subjects actually taken by the pupils are, Latin, Algebra, Geometry, German, English History, Ancient History, English and Chemistry.

The school has again received the approval of the State Board of Education. That our work has been up to the standard set in the state program of studies is shown by the fact that all pupils who have attended other schools for the past two years have maintained their class standing. And last summer one second year pupil was able to pass off the preliminary examinations in Latin at Dartmouth College.

It is quite necessary to have some older person supervise the sports and games at recess time. To carry out this plan the teachers have cooperated and a visitor cannot but notice that everyone is having a real play period. In the fall we were able to obtain some minor gymnastic apparatus and we hope in the near future to add more and make the schoolyard an attractive community playground.

To do away with the congested conditions in the school house last year, the first grade was removed to the annex building purchased by the town and equipped most suitably for the younger pupils. One room in the building, however, was reserved for a chemical laboratory. The furnishing was so designed by Superintendent Knowlton that its use is possible either for Chemistry, Physics, or Domestic Science. The heating of the annex from the main building has been entirely satisfactory.

The following statistics for the first half of the school year show that the pupils have been regular and punctual in attendance.

Total enrollment of pupils	25
Average daily absence	.69
Per cent. of attendance	96.8
Total number of tardinesses	9

The enrollment by classes corrected to date is:—

	Boys	Girls	Total
First year	6	5	11
Second year	1	3	4
Third year	4	3	7
Total	11	11	22

Thanking the parents, teachers, superintendent, and members of the school board for their kind cooperation, this report is respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM H. BAILEY,
Principal.
